Rural School Visit

The visit to the Zilla Parishad Rural School provided B.Ed students with invaluable insights into the nuances of rural education. It emphasized the importance of adapting teaching methods, fostering community engagement, and addressing resource constraints. This experience not only enriched the students' understanding of diverse educational contexts but also equipped them with a sense of responsibility to contribute meaningfully to the improvement of rural education.

Practice Teaching Session

Practice teaching, also known as teaching practicum or student teaching, is a crucial component of the B.Ed program. The primary objectives of practice teaching for B.Ed students are to provide them with practical teaching experience and prepare them for their future roles as educators. Practice teaching serves as a bridge between the academic study of education and the practical demands of the teaching profession, helping B.Ed students transition into effective and reflective educators.
